MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Operations

SUBJECT: A Classification Problem

1. As you will recall, the traditional position of the Deputy Director for Plans has been that the organizational structure of the Clandestine Services was national security information. At [ ]'s suggestion, [ ] and I have worked out a warning notice for unclassified information which would serve to advise recipients that such information could not be taken home nor disseminated, in those instances where such a warning notice is appropriate.

2. Do you feel that the cable forms, which will end up with DD/O organizational symbols should continue to remain classified "Confidential," or can they more appropriately be covered with a caveat warning notice?
